EARL OF KINTORE AS CITY'S GUEST

Peace Exposition Chairman
Will Call on Mr. Wilson
Today.

CAPITAL PLANS HONORS

Committee of Citizens Meets Visitor and Party at Union Station on Arrival.

The Rt. Hon. the Earl of Kintore, P. C., G. C. M. G., chairman of the executive committee of the Anglo-American Exposition in London, which is to be a part of the celebration in observance of the centenary of peace since the signing of the treaty of Ghent, arrived in Washington at 8 o'clock last night on the Congressional limited from New York. Lord Kintore, who was accompanied by Oscar Strauss, former Ambassador to Turkey; William Church Osborne, Calvin Rice, James A. and John A. Stewart, James K. Kiraly, director general of the Anglo-American Exposition, and Albert E. Kiraly, commissioner general of the exposition. The party was met at the Union Station by a committee composed of Clarence J. Owens, John Barrett, Commissioner of Education, Henry B. F. Macfarland, D. J. Callahan, W. F. Gude, Richard W. Watrous, W. H. Saunders, J. Selwin Tait, and George E. Roberts, Director of the Mint. They escorted Lord Kintore to the Shoreham Hotel, where suites had been reserved.

Movement Great Success.
"So successful has the committee been," said the earl soon after his arrival, "that it has been necessary to enlarge the original exposition space of 15 acres in Shepherd's Bush, London. For that reason many of the exhibition spaces allotted to Americans have had to be changed and it was necessary, therefore, that some one come over to prevent possible confusion and dissatisfaction among American exhibitors. The buildings, which are fireproof, have all been finished."

"The American interests are being looked after by the American Society in London, with which the idea of the exposition originated. The Duke of Connaught is the patron of the exposition, and the Duke of Teck its honorary president. The executive committee, of which I am chairman, is composed of leading men in the arts, sciences, industries, and commerce of Great Britain."

The Duke of Connaught is the patron of the exposition, and the Duke of Teck its honorary president. The executive committee, of which I am chairman, is composed of leading men in the arts, sciences, industries, and commerce of Great Britain."

Will Call on President.
This morning Lord Kintore will call upon President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan. At 12 o'clock he and his party will be guests at a luncheon at the British Embassy, and at 1:30 o'clock Lord Kintore will be the guest of honor at a banquet given at the New Willard Hotel by the Southern Commercial Congress. Henry B. F. Macfarland will be chairman and toastmaster.

Friday at noon the earl and party will be tendered an informal reception by the National Press Club, to be followed by a luncheon in the press club given by the executive heads of organizations whose headquarters are in Washington. At 5 o'clock Friday afternoon there will be a reception to him at Fairmont Seminary. The reception which was planned for Friday evening at the Pan-American Union, where Secretary Bryan was to receive him, has been struck from the earl's program on account of his departure for Pittsburgh on an early train. He will be the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

TELLS OF PILGRIM FATHERS.

G. H. Winslow Delivers Stereoscopic
Lecture at Railroad Y. M. C. A.

New England, from the days of 1620 to 1914, was described in a stereoscopic lecture last night at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. by G. H. Winslow, secretary of the association. This is the third of a series of educational lectures to be given there every two weeks.

Mr. Winslow spoke of the causes that led to the pilgrims from England and Holland coming to this country for freedom in civil and religious matters. He showed the development of the country since their landing at Plymouth in 1620, and their influence on the New England States.

Clean Sweep Sale

has been in course of preparation and will be in complete readiness for Washingtonians at

8 O'Clock Friday Morning

The Clean-Sweep Sale this year is doubled in importance

1st—All departments semi-annually in these Clean-Sweep Sales offer everything bought during that season at practically less than cost prices—for no good store carries over from one season to another any considerable amount of merchandising.

2d—Department managers are more enthusiastic than ever—offering greater bargains because of the improvements and their coming new locations, as it is their desire to open their new departments with entirely fresh stocks.

It is therefore necessary to close the store tomorrow

at 4:30 P. M.

to arrange and reprice merchandise in readiness for you when the sale opens Friday morning. See tomorrow's Star and Times for particulars.
